PRESS RELEASE

December 2025

Hembus Presents Handcrafted Unique Pieces at Heimtextil 2026 in Frankfurt

Since 1894, the wallpaper manufactory Hembus stands for masterfully crafted wallpapers from the Odenwald region – shaped by a living tradition and exceptional craftsmanship. Hembus announces its participation in Heimtextil 2026 in Frankfurt am Main, where it will present the distinctive art of traditionally produced wall coverings. From 13 to 16 January 2026, visitors can experience in Hall 3.0, Stand B31, how historic techniques, contemporary design and meticulous manufactory craftsmanship merge to create unique wallpaper originals.

With a history spanning more than 130 years, Hembus is one of the few manufactories that still produce their wallpapers entirely using the classic screen-printing process. Each roll is created at the historic farmstead in the Odenwald and built up layer by layer through a handcrafted process. The combination of artistic ambition, technical precision and traditional production gives the wallpapers a distinctive character that is appreciated worldwide in museums, palaces, hotels and sophisticated interiors.

At Heimtextil 2026, Hembus will present both historical reconstructions and current designs, showcasing the creative spectrum of the manufactory. With more than 800 historical and contemporary patterns, Hembus offers an extraordinary diversity – a collection ranging from Art Nouveau and Art Deco to modern interpretations. Bold colours meet opulent ornaments, while delicate hues encounter fine line work. Each wallpaper, each border is a unique piece on fine paper that can be freely combined, opening up endless design possibilities for characterful spaces. In this way, every motif tells its own story and connects traditional craftsmanship with contemporary design – for interiors that unite personality and high standards.

Visitors to Heimtextil will gain insights into the creation process, from hand-painted negatives to the multi-layer colour passes of the screen-printing machine. The trade fair appearance makes visible what has distinguished Hembus for generations: the preservation of a rare craft and the ability to further develop it in a contemporary form. Hembus warmly invites all interested visitors to discover the diversity of the collection as well as the depth of craftsmanship at Heimtextil.

NOTES TO EDITORS

ABOUT HEMBUS

For more than 130 years, the wallpaper manufactory Hembus has represented an exceptional combination of artistic tradition, artisanal perfection and cultural responsibility. At the historic farmstead in the Odenwald, wall coverings are created that shape unique interiors around the world – produced using the classic screen-printing technique, layer by layer in meticulous handwork. The legendary screen-printing machine “Julius,” developed specifically for the reconstruction of Frankfurt’s Goethe House in the 1950s, still forms the heart of production today.

Hembus combines tradition and innovation into a unique whole: from historical reconstructions for significant architectural landmarks and bespoke pieces to modern designs that merge contemporary aesthetics with traditional production techniques. Today, Hembus wallpapers can be found in prestigious locations around the world – from Neuschwanstein Castle to the Museum of Modern Art in New York.

With more than 800 patterns and expertise refined over generations, Hembus creates wallpapers of distinctive character – paper artworks that preserve history and bring spaces to life with stories. Since 2023, Hembus has been part of the Steuernagel & Lampert family. This merger of two traditional companies strengthens the brand’s cultural heritage, preserves valuable knowledge and opens up new paths for future-oriented development.
